What do I bring to the table?

6+ years of diverse leadership and management experience. My background is in restaurant management, so I understand the importance of good employees. But as time has gone on I have found that my passion is in development and coding. I am a strong believer in life-long continued education; so not only will I be pushing myself at work, but in my free time I will also be learning new skills while developing myself within the industry to be the best that I can.

I don't want...

...Just another job. I want to solve problems and make people's lives easier.

"The average cost of a bad hire is about 6 to 15 times the person's annual salary." – Darren Hardy, The Entrepreneur Roller Coaster

👉 I realize this. And I don't want you to make that mistake. Bring me on and I'll actually live up to the expectations in this resume.

The tech: Frontend Development, Javascript, jQuery, Java, C++, Swift, and the Adobe Suite. But I can learn anything with ease; and would be more than happy to do so, as I see continued education invaluable. I have a formal education in Java & C++, everything else has been self-taught. I am currently working my way towards competent iOS & full stack development.

General Restaurant Management I | 2011 – 2019

I have worked various roles within management all the way up to General Manager. My main focuses were running a profitable store through PnL and building a work culture people enjoyed that maintained low turnover. Untold Threads: I ran my own e-commerce business for about 2 years from 2016-2018. I made decent side income; but what I learned from the successes and failures, trials and errors, development, design, and business knowledge was far more valuable than the money involved.
